

HOW DOES WA Reduce its Waste?

Apart from using reusable bags for shopping, here are some of the best ways the people of Western Australia reduce their waste. Please share this information through your networks.

greens.org.au/waste-free

BYO lunchbox for takeaway

Compost food scraps and paper (including this flyer when you're finished with it)

Buy locally-made & grown where possible

Grow your own food, you can even start small with potted herbs.

Shop at farmers' markets

Buy meat at a butcher and bring reusable or compostable container/calico bag.

Give friends and family reusable items as presents (such as Keep cups, tote/calico bags, recycled products)

Bury pet waste in your garden

Buy a Bokashi compost bin for food scraps bokashi.com.au

Go to clothes-swaps and/or buy second hand clothing

HOW DOES WA

Reduce it's Waste?

Google 'how to turn old t-shirt into tote bag' for a fun craft idea

Buy recycled toilet paper for the office
au.whogivesacrap.org

Shop at bulk food stores like:

Angry Almond, Nedlands & Subiaco
Dunn & Walton, Doubleview Kukulas Brothers, Northbridge Kakulas Sister, Fremantle & Nollamara Loose Produce, Como Manna Wholefoods & Café,
South Fremantle
Organic on Charles, North Perth
Wasteless Pantry, Mundaring
The Clean Food Store, Shenton Park
The Source Bulk Foods, Floreat, Vic Park & Clarkson

Keep old clothes as cleaning rags

Visit floraandfauna.com.au for plastic-free and recyclable products

Learn how to mend and repair clothing

Follow the blog treadingmyownpath.com

